An Eminent Physician's Article o Color Blindness Among Railroad Men.

Prospects of the Indiana and Illinois Southern - The Monen Presidency - Other Items Relative to Railroads and Employes.

It appears that the Pan-Handle people look upon the electric headlight with lavor. Several of their engines have already been equipped with this light,

Dave Edwards, formerly connected with the Bee Line, and well known in Indianapolis railroad circles, has been appointed Wester: egent of the C. and O., with headquarters at Cincinnati.

It is understood that the system of paying off employes by checks, thus abolishing the pay-car, will soon be introduced on the C., H. and D. This system is in vogue on the I., B. and W., Bee Line and many other important roads, and has given great satisfac tion to all concerned.

Chalmers Brown, the well-known Big Four passenger conductor, will to-morrow succeed George Reck as City Passenger Agent. Mr. Reck takes service with the Pennsylvania Company. The Big Four freight decertment is also to be reorganized, and Mr. Hobbs, Assistant General Agent, will probably remove his headquarters to Chicago.

The Vandalia's threatened withdrawal from the pool was thoroughly discussed yesterday, but the opinion prevailed that no such action would be taken. The complaints made were acknowledged to be true to a great extent, but the smallness of the percentage Was explained by the claim that the strong roads should concede something to the weak. -St. Louis Exchange.

There was a time when the majority of the Indianaponlis roads used wood in their engines altogether. Coal was then very scarce, while timber was very plentiful. It is just the reverse now, and none of the roads leading from this city use wood. The coal and, in fact, the great commercial centers are overstocked with it, as was stated in a lengthy article which appeared in the Sentinel some time since.

"Is the rumor to the effect that Colonel William Dawd will be offered the Presidency of the Monon at the coming annual meeting true?" was asked of a gentleman conversant with the affairs of that road. "I should judge." replied he, "from what I have heard that it is. I hope there is some truth in it, for Mr. Dowd is just the man for that posi-tion." On being asked if he thought that Mr. Dowd would accept the position the gentleman replied in the affirmative. It is understood that General Manager Carson is anxious for the appointment of Mr. Dowd.

It is generally conceded that the Indiana and Illinois Southern has not been permanently abandoned, and many believe that there is some foundation for the report that the Vandalia people intend to purchase it while others are of the opinion that it will fall into the hands of a syndicate of Eastern capitalists. A few thousand dollars will man fr place the I. and I. S. in as good physical $1,500. condition as the majority of the smaller Indiana and Illinois roads, and with good management it will become a paying prop-

An eminent physician writes a lengthy article in the current number of the Popular Science Monthly, on the sight and hearing of railroad employes, in which he says: It has not been the duty of the writer to investigate cases of accidents which might have leen caused by defects of sight, but he has been assured by officials that a solution will hereafter be found in them for those hitherto insoluble mysteries where men, otherwise credible, have so flatty contradicted themselves and the circumntances of the case. By one prominent officer Criminal Court this morning at 9 o'clock. It was to have been tried yesterday, but annight, delayed by some slight accident, he himself took a red lantern, and going a proper distance back, placed himself on the track in the way of an encoming train, but, finding his light not observed he was compelled to dash it into the cab to attract the engineer's attention, and arrest him in his progress to a collision. Upon the examination of another engineer, his superior officer being present and convinced of his marked color blindness, remarked that, but a short time before, the man had run into the rear of a train properly protected by a red light in the hands of a brakesome distance in the rear. that the most careful investigation had resulted only in the suspension of the brakeman for not having gone far enough back, but that he was now satisfied that the color blindness of the engineer had been the real cause of the accident. Some slight or minor accident recently led to the discovery that another engineer had by some oversight not been tested in his division, and this led to his examination and detection there, and to his conviction by the writer as a color blind. Still another case now presents itself. An engineer some time ago ran over and killed a brakeman holding a danger signal on the track in front of his engine, and no satisfactory explanation could then be given; but the division examiner predicted that he would probably be found color blind, and on his examination this proved to be the

The price at that time ($2.75) we considered (and so proved) unusually low, and the bulk of the mammoth lot was speedily reduced in proportions, when attention was called to other lines. There remain now in stock about 200 Pairs of the absve goods in Opera Toe and Common Sense styles.
